A Documentary Film by Arkansas PBS

“In this vast universe, an ecosystem exists, which holds a key to human existence.
This key can open the door to wealth or ruin, feast or famine.
And it lies just beneath our feet.”

August 18, 2022

Ron Robinson Theater in the Little Rock River Market

Doors Open at 6:00 pm

Film Begins at 7:00 pm

Free Copies of the companion book “Conservation in Arkansas Agriculture” will be available.

This film was made possible by a grant from the USDA – Natural Resources Conservation Service and features Arkansas farmers and ranchers discussing their connection to the land, their commitment to soil health and the future of agriculture in Arkansas.
